Mother Nature Has Happening In Quake Shake

The sudden shifts and movements experienced on campus and off Saturday weren't UFOs invading. Nor was it the beginning of the third world war. Nor was it Liz and Richard having one of their notoriously wild misunderstandings.

It was a 5.5 Richter scale earthquake.

Yes, Martin and UTM experienced its first earth-shattering scientific happening since 1811.

Some people thought nearby construction work was causing the commotion. Others thought the jolly green giant was playing hop-scotch on rooftops. Still others thought a jokester was under their beds.

People caught outside buildings were unaware of the strange and unusual happenings occurring about them at 11:00 a.m. One coed, who was on the archery range unaware of the quivers, remarked to the person who told her about the quake: "When I concentrate on a target, I really must concentrate."

Co-op Offers Practical Engineering Experience

By Dianne Craft

Incorporating professional experience into an academic program is an achievement of merit.

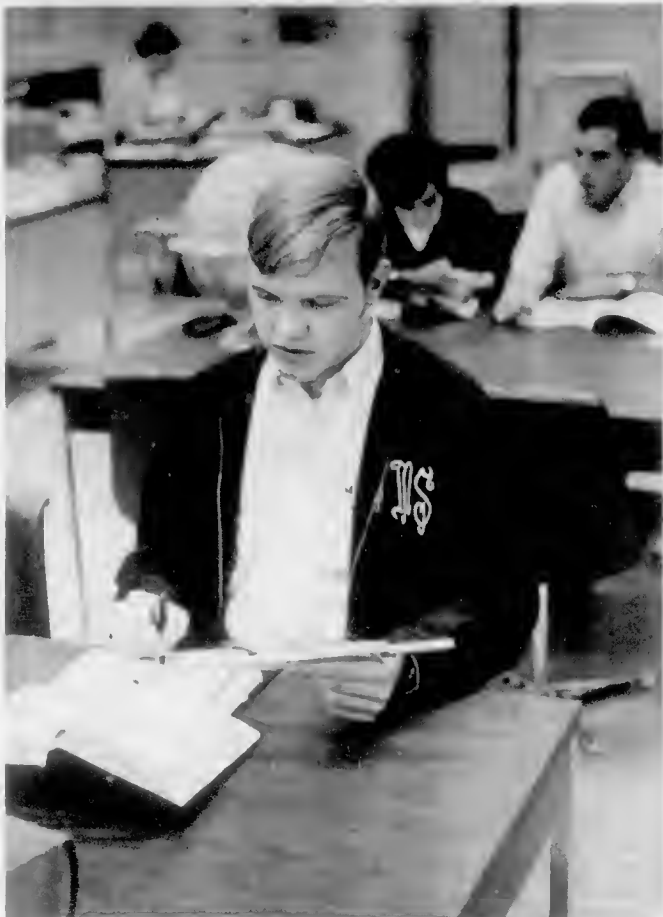

"The cooperative program offers the student an opportunity to apply his knowledge to his work and also to discover what the everyday life of an engineer is like," commented Terry Barnette, a sophomore from Jackson who has worked three quarters at Jackson Utility Company in the sales engineering department.

"PERHAPS THE MOST important merit of the cooperative education program is the chance it offers to learn to communicate and get along with people," Barnette continued.

This program, called co-op for short, has recently been divided into two separate programs. "In the 'standard' program the student must maintain at least a 2.2 grade index with a good average in math and science courses," according to Professor J.O. Jones, head of the engineering department.

Mid-Term Grading System Falls Short Of Purpose

Unknown to many is the fact that after today there are only 15 more class days left in this quarter. To put it more bluntly -- final exams are upon us.

WITH A LITTLE more than two weeks remaining, students are gathering up millions of academic "loose ends" in an effort to finish that term paper or find those elusive chemical unknowns, etc., etc.

In the midst of this massive onslaught of deadlines, when all thoughts are concentrated on winding up the quarter, the student finally receives a copy of his mid-term grades. Although slightly out of date and a little overdue, nevertheless they constitute a very present reminder that the quarter is slipping rapidly by.

MOST STUDENTS RECEIVED these tallies last Thursday, almost a full two weeks after the officially designated middle of the term. It seems that the purpose of the mid-term grade is to give the students an indication of his progress, in time for corrective measures to be taken if needed. Theoretically, this is fine, but when the grades are not posted until two weeks before final exams, the period for corrective improvement is greatly diminished.

Instructors had to have their grades turned into the Registrar's Office by 5:00 p.m. on Friday, October 25. Some mid-terms were given on Thursday and Friday. If teachers can grade scores of papers, average their grades, and submit them within a matter of hours, it seems feasible that the Admissions and Records Office could process them with more speed and efficiency.

ALTHOUGH SOME CONTENT that mid-term grades should come as no surprise, quite often the results are very shocking. Therefore, it seems that a student should be notified of his grades as soon as possible to allow the maximum period for a re-evaluation of his standing. Somehow, issuing mid-term grades simultaneously with the final exam schedule constitutes a direct contradiction of the purpose of the mid-term grade.

Parade Of Opinion

Dear Editors:

The Union City Jaycees will stage their annual Christmas Parade, in cooperation with the Union City Merchants on Saturday morning, November 30.

Jaycee Parade Chairman John Kent announced today that plans were developing rapidly for what appeared to be the biggest parade ever staged in Union City to herald the Christmas season.

Mr. Kent noted that groups and organizations in the surrounding area were being encouraged to enter floats, marching units, cheerleader groups, beauty queens, antique cars, and other miscellaneous entries. Groups other than commercial businesses who enter the float competition will receive $20.00 expense money from the Jaycees, and floats from outside Union City will compete for cash awards of $50.00 and $25.00. Floats, and other entries must follow the parade theme, "Christmas is Happiness."

Persons interested in entering floats should contact Hugh Nelson at 885-5901 or 885-5804 in Union City. Miscellaneous unit entries should contact Jimmy Jones at 885-9640, and cheerleaders and beauty queens wishing to participate should contact Mr. Kent at 885-1240. Cheerleader groups in decorated convertibles will compete for first, second, and third place trophies.

Inquires may also be addressed to Mr. Kent at PO Box 687 in Union City.

The Jaycees extend a special invitation to fraternities, sororities, and other groups on the U-T Martin campus to participate.

Editor's Note:

In a continuing series of student opinion reviews, VOLETTE News Editor Bob Stack prodded the convictions of the Student Government officers, highlighting the lack of student interest in SG activities.

Possibly the most flagrant example of student disinterest is the poor turn-out during campus elections. This is the student's best outlet to have a voice in his campus affairs. Yet only one-third of the student body took the time and effort to exercise its voice in student affairs during the most recent election. As a result, some candidates were elected with a plurality of less than 20 votes.

MOST RECOGNIZED STUDENT leaders already have several other activities which demand their time. Possibly there are many potential student leaders who withhold their ideas or abilities simply because they are afraid to get involved.

"We suggest that any student with any idea or suggestion, no matter how small or how trivial, bring it directly to our offices. There is not a formal chain-of-command within our form of student government," stated Linda Austin, secretary of affairs.

SG LEADERS JOINTLY voiced the opinion that the majority of students and organizations are not fully taking advantage of the many services offered by the SG Association.

Most students fail to take advantage of their Student Center, which is undoubtedly one of the finest in the South.

"OCCASIONALLY STU-DENT attendance at Wagon Wheels, lecture series, student movies, etc., is disheartening. Use of the lounge areas, TV rooms, and recreation rooms is improving, but has not reached the ultimate goal," voiced Steve Davis, the SG president.

"Another example of student disinterest is the poor attendance at faculty-student coffee hours. This is the student's best opportunity to speak to a teacher about non-academic subjects," contributed Robert Briggs, secretary of finance.

"WE PUT OUT a newsletter each week as a list of events for the coming week. This is a sounding board for every organization on campus, and yet few organizations and students are taking advantage of this free service," was Davis's biggest gripe.

"Each organization," Austin said, "is offered file space for securing records, minutes, and other documents. Individual file cabinets are located in the Student Government meeting room and are secure from any other student or organization."

Student apathy is the greatest concern of SG affairs. Davis felt a definite distinction should be made between the Knoxville campus and our campus.

"WE ARE NO LONGER a part of Knoxville, but we are part of the UT system. It is time for us to take pride in our own campus and develop our image," Davis said.

Ken Becker, Secretary of Communications, continued Davis' idea, "Students should devote their full interest to UTM. If a student wants to go to the Knoxville branch, he should go to Knoxville. If a

"LET'S GET ACQUAINTED" KICKS OFF—Students from Dickson County held the first session dedicated to boosting school spirit and bringing home town neighbors together with Assistant Dean of Students Raymond

Stokes. Participating in the discussion are David Shephard, Jimmy Dale Harris, Alton Brown, Sarah Coleman, Dean Stokes, Theodous Lewis, Julie Oliphant, Gala Bissinger, and Diane Anderson.

Co-op Offers Practical Experience

THE OTHER PROGRAM known as the "scholarship" program differs in that it offers more enrichment programming in the field of engineering. To qualify the student must maintain a 2.75 academic average.

Before a student is accepted for a job, he must qualify in accordance with company standards. Occasionally a student is rejected and scheduled to be reassigned with another company.

STUDENTS INTERESTED in the co-op programs must take ambition, ability, grades, and responsibility into consideration before entering the program.

"The most important requirement for the applicant,"

Professor Jones said, "is his sincerity in the belief that the cooperative method of education is adequate in preparing the engineering student for a career in the future."

IT TAKES FIVE YEARS to earn a B.S. degree in engineering while on the co-op plan. At least two quarters of schooling are spent at UTM with the remaining time devoted to alternating school and work. During this period the student gets a total of two years experience holding one job.

After graduation co-op students generally seek graduate study, teach or act as consultants, or advance to responsible jobs in the companies that trained them.

"AROUND 35 FRESHMEN are placed in our program after applications are turned in and final selections are made," remarked Professor Jones who handles co-op placement in the engineering department.

Stokes Entertains At Informal Dinner

Assistant dean of students, Raymond Stokes, has begun a program involving students from various Tennessee counties in an effort to increase school spirit and boost the University's recruiting program.

"I WOULD LIKE to see other faculty and administrative members follow through with a similar program," Stokes said Monday.

The "Let's Get Acquainted" informal gatherings began Tuesday, October 29 when 13 Dickson county students met with Dean Stokes in the University Cafeteria for a Dutch Treat dinner.

Honesty - Best Policy! "Do you have a bright future?" said the girl's father to his prospective son-in-law.

"Sure-do," nodded the young man, "unless your daughter lied about how rich you are."

In Perspective

student chooses to go here, he should become a full-time student academically and socially. It's a pity when a student attends classes here and goes to Knoxville for his social life."

BECKER FURTHER ENCOURAGED students to accept the responsibility of being college students by: "...being mature enough to go to school seven days a week instead of five and taking the initiative to become involved in campus life."

Students frequently complain about the price of admission to concerts.

"THE PLATTERS, who played here earlier this year on a $3.50 combination ticket (which also included a concert by Sam and Dave), recently played at Middle Tennessee State University for $3.50 per person for the single concert. The same group played for Vanderbilt's homecoming concert for $4.00 per person," Briggs commented.

Students are reminded of the Paul Revere and the Raiders Concert tonight. Tickets are $2.50 each, which could also be considered a relative bargain considering a student pays that much to see a first run movie in Memphis.

IN ORDER TO build a better University, Becker made this suggestion, "Give five minutes of each day to build rather than criticize. If 3,755 students would cooperate in this effort, student involvement would match our expansion growth, which is the fastest in the South."

IT ONLY TAKES A MINUTE TO BUILD A BETTER UNIVERSITY.

Students Voice Opinions On Gun Control Legislation

by Chuck Larese

Gun Control legislation has been on and off the legislative target and banged around by the public.

THE PROS HAVE been sharpshooting on the issue and have the Constitution shoring up their defenses. The cons haven't had too much ammunition, except for the crime cliché.

During the last month the VOLETTE has polled approximately 100 students' opinions on the topic.

"What do YOU think about gun control legislation?"

"I THINK IT would be a disadvantage to all American people," replied Thomas Ledsinger, a junior in agriculture from Huntingdon.

"Congress is using gun control legislation to gain sympathy of the voters," answered Larry Keegan, a freshman in pre-dentistry from Memphis.

"I BELIEVE THAT recent assassinations of prominent people have led to the current press on gun control legislation in the legislative bodies," Linda Yarbrough, a junior in education from Trenton remarked.

"Strict gun control legislation would be a farce and would be considered unconstitutional to the American people for an American is supposed to be insured of the right 'to bear arms,'" said Kathy Winters, a sophomore in Home Economics from Milan.

"IF SOMEONE WANTS a gun very badly for an illegal purpose, he won't get it legally," stated Len Dow Hamner, a senior in Memphis.

A.C.E. Meets

The Association for Childhood Education will meet at 4:00 p.m. Sunday, November 17 in the University Center. The program is entitled "How Much is Too Much?"

"Gun control is a helpful aid against crime; however, legislation will never successfully rid America of it," said Harold Skidmore, an engineering freshman from Whitehaven.

BUTCH LATTER, a junior in secondary education, commented that gun control legislation will "cut down on murders and riots."

Lance King, a junior in pre-law, thought that "gun control legislation will keep down murders."

WHEN QUESTIONED ON their opinion of the possible effectiveness of gun control legislation, the results were as follows.

Big Orange Topples Troy In Tilt Of Season 12-3

The Volunteers pulled a major small college upset here Saturday, defeating Troy (Ala.) State 12-3. The victory came before a band day crowd of approximately 6,500 fans.

COMING INTO THE GAME ranked third in the NAIA small college poll and with the NAIA's number one passer, quarterback Sim Byrd, the upset was the first defeat for the Red Wave after eight victories.

The UTM record now stands at 3-3-1, with the three victories coming in home games against Northwood of Michigan, Delta State and Troy State. The Orangemen have dropped games to McNeese State, Jacksonville State and Middle Tennessee State and have recorded a tie in the season opener against Murray State.

The pass defense, unable to contain the passing of MTSU John Thomas last week in the 24-17 loss, looked like a different team. Picking off eight Troy aeriels and holding Byrd to eight of 17 passes for 60 yards, the Vol defense was spearheaded by freshman defensive halfback Mike Beeler with three interceptions and linebackers Bill Powell and Terry Butcher with two interceptions each. Middle guard Foy Norwood pulled down a Troy pass on the UTM 23 and returned it six yards, ending a Troy drive late in the second quarter.

THE VOLS OPENED the scoring with a 26-yard field goal by Robert Hassel in the first quarter. With one second remaining before the half, Troy kicking specialist Randy Hicks evened the score on a 34-yard field goal, the lone score for the Red Wave.

Hassel kicked his second field goal, a 35-yarder, in the third quarter. The three-pointer came after a 19-yard pass from quarterback Errol Hlook was caught by end Richard Whitfield in the end zone, but the catch was ruled out of bounds.

THE LONE TD and last score of the game came nine plays later on an 18-yard pass from Hlook to Tommy Baker.

The defense, gave up only one yard rushing and 120 yards passing. The Vols rushed for 152 yards and passed for 39. Leading ground gainer for the Vols was Hlook with 62 yards on 20 carries, including a long run of 28 yards.

THE TEAM JOURNEYS to Florence (Ala.) State Saturday for an afternoon contest.

TAILBACK TOMMY BAKER side steps Troy State defenders in Saturday's game. Baker scored the lone TD in the game won by the Vols 12-3 over the nationally ranked Red Wave.

Tournaments Held By Clement Hall

A volleyball tournament was held last week with Clement Hall's seven floors competing against each other.

A Rook tournament is now in progress.

This tournament was a co-operative effort of the women's physical education staff and each floor's activity chairman. "The Special Occasion," fourth floor A, won the tournament. Runner-up was "The Spastics," first floor B.

Every four years, citizens are exposed to the words of angelic candidates and their devilish opponents.

Suddenly, it's November 5 and the "out" candidates become good losers and the "in" candidates forgive all the nasty things said about them.
